Attn: Marfoglia

Mark,

Super job! You came thru for us when we were in a jam for time and had to get in before our employees arrived from Europe. In both the original job and the recent expansion you also helped us find major savings in both the glass and flooring, without compromising the design we like so much.

My first impression of your company based on your promotional material was that the cost would be too high for our needs. It was a pleasant surprise however when your team quickly showed us how we could benefit from your experience to keep costs in line with our budget. Our decision to use Marfoglia in a Construction Management format was certainly the right one. The high level of integrity that was displayed as you went through the sub-contractor tendering process, on our behalf, was unequaled in my experience.

We also appreciated how organized your team is at every level. From the original quotation, thru the weekly minutes of site meetings, to as-built documents, we always knew that the flow of information was solid and that the details were being taken care of.

Bravo, keep up the good work!"

Miguel Caron,
CEO Funcom Games Canada
